

Wednesday, January 31, at 7:00 central KidLit Nation is hosting a free webinar with SCBWI-IL illustrator Jacqueline Alcantara and author Baptiste Paul to talk about their debut picture book, " The Field". You can sign-up for the webinar by clicking on this link: https://zoom.us/webinar/register/WN_exnq2R34Q1mdvJ4IBsqALw

KidLit Nation webinars focus on topics of diversity in children's literature and supporting book creators of color.

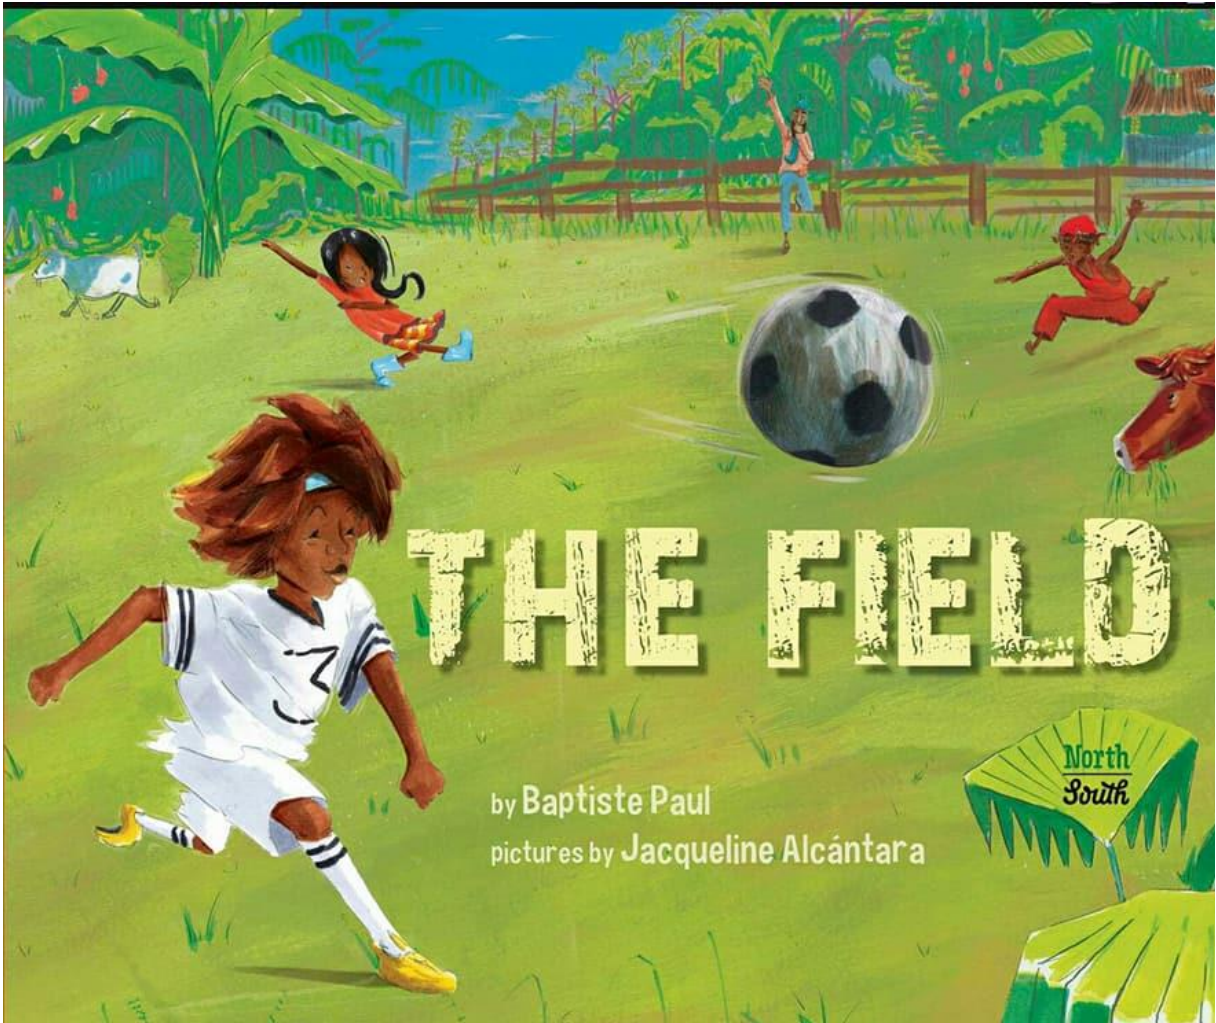

KidLitNation

Please join us on Wednesday, January 31st at 7:00pm CST/8:00pm EST for our first webinar of the year. We're having a conversation with author Baptiste Paul and SCBWI-IL illustrator Jacqueline Alcantara as they talk about their debut picture book, "The Field". The session will run 45-60 minutes.

Webinar attendees will also have a chance to win one of 7 arcs!
Winners will be announced within 24 hrs after the event.

Register for the webinar via this link:

https://zoom.us/webinar/register/WN_exnq2R34Q1mdvJ4IBsqALw

Here are some best practices for getting in to the room:

- Download the new the app if you prefer to view on your tablet or phone
- Log in at least 5 minutes before the top of the hour. (Give yourself enough time to download)
- If we are not on live yet, you will see a message box stating webinar name and start time. Once we go live at 7pm, you will see KidLit Nation's logo on the screen.

- If you can't attend live or miss any part of the webinar, we will send the link to the replay within a week of the live event.

Once you're in the virtual classroom, you'll be able to chat by typing in a special chat window. This will also allow Baptiste and Jackie to answer any questions you have.
